Do you have any medical conditions that we should be aware of or that require special living arrangements? If so, please explain below (please note that any request for accommodation must be made to the Dean of Student Affairs):

Roommate Preference Guide

Please complete the Roommate Preference Guide below. In order to identify some of your attitudes about living with another person, consider the following living situations. Although you may be matched with a roommate because you share similar attitudes, you should not expect to agree on everything. It is important for roommates to discuss their commonalities as well as differences as a means to better understand each other and to build a cooperative relationship. The Housing Office has the Basic Human Respect (BHR) program to assist in this endeavor, but when completing this form, it is very important to be honest both with yourself and with us as we work to place you with a roommate with whom you will enjoy sharing space.

Think carefully about how comfortable you would be living in each situation and indicate the choice that most clearly resembles your true feelings. We encourage you to complete this questionnaire on your own, without input from friends and/or family.

Smoking Policy

There is no smoking allowed inside classrooms or other California Design Center areas. Please use ashtrays when smoking outside. Students requesting and placed into non-smoking units in school-sponsored housing are obligated to not smoke in their apartment and to be respectful of roommates.

Please describe your working habits and how they would relate to your roommates?

- I am a "night" person and would definitely want my roommates to be night people.
- I would prefer to live with a "night" person but would adjust to the reverse situation.
- I would prefer to live with a "morning" person but could adjust to the reverse situation.
- I am a "morning" person and would definitely want my roommates to be "morning" people.

Please describe your cleaning tolerance.

You have just returned to your room to find, for what seems like the hundredth time, your roommate listening to your favorite CD on your stereo and reading e-mail on your computer. The better you get to know your roommate, the more you realize that his/her belief is "my roommate won't mind."

- It's okay. My attitude is exactly the same.
- I don't mind if my roommate uses some things like my stereo, but not my personal items like clothing or toiletries.
- I believe that you should use other people's things only after you have asked permission.
- I think using other people's things is too problematic, so I would not use theirs and expect them to do the same.

Please select the answer(s) that most reflects your study habits:

When I need to confront a friend about a behavior that I think is inappropriate, I tend to:

- Shut Down.
- Confront it head-on. It's easier that way.
- Ignore the situation. Situations like this usually take care of themselves.
- Find a way to communicate my concerns without offending him/her.

Describe your ideal roommate: _____

Is there anything you would like for us to consider when selecting your roommate?

Do you have any special dietary needs and/or food allergies? _____

Do you have any special medical needs? Please list here if any. _____

Please list any additional information that would help us in the assignment process:

California Design College is a community of men and women from diverse racial, ethnic, and class backgrounds; national origins; religious beliefs; physical abilities; and sexual orientations. Our activities are enriched by our acceptance of one another, and we must strive to learn from each other in an atmosphere of supportive engagement and mutual respect.

I give the California Design College permission to release my name, phone number and e-mail address to my potential roommate(s) upon being assigned to a room.
