

OUR GRADUATES ARE TURNING OPPORTUNITIES INTO CAREERS.

In a world that runs on ideas, our grads have a head start.

More than ever, employers are looking for creativity. And they're finding it in those who come from The Art Institutes schools. In our career-focused learning environment, students use professional-grade technologies under the guidance of experienced instructors who know first-hand what the industry demands.

By offering internship opportunities and helping to keep our education programs aligned with industry trends, many employers work with our schools to make our students more marketable.

And our system of over 45 schools across North America keeps us connected with employers all around the country.

Of all 2009 graduates of The Art Institute of California—Los Angeles available for employment, 82.9% were working in a field related to their program of study within six months of graduation, at an average starting salary of $30,310.

Who will create tomorrow? It could be you.

We're in the middle of a creative revolution that's opening new opportunities to build a career out of ideas. At an Art Institutes school, our students get a focused education that prepares them to seize those opportunities. We guide, support, and help students take their creativity from the classroom to the working world.

Our graduates enter the job market equipped not only with polished talent, but the professional portfolio, interviewing, and networking skills they need to make an impact in the job market.

Measuring our graduates' success.

We've charted our recent grads' progress as they launch their careers, both in terms of finding jobs and in the average salary they're earning.

When you're ready to look, you'll find plenty of support.

As our grads start their job search, they can count on the support of our Career Services staff. We provide helpful tips and techniques, and connect them to hiring managers in their community and throughout North America.

We'll help:

- Develop job-search skills in resumé writing, interviewing, and networking
- Find part-time work while in school
- Pursue full-time work after graduation

Students can also take advantage of:

- A Portfolio Show during final quarter attended by potential employers
- Opportunities to meet employers at career days and job fairs
- Current insights into the skills employers are looking for

Start here. And go as far as your talent takes you.

These aren't just job titles. They're opportunities that some of our recent grads have taken hold of.
