So you have decided that College-Sponsored Housing is right for you... what do you do now? Easy... Just...

1. Fill out the application, vaccination waiver, and background authorization.
2. Submit the application with a $250 rent and restoration deposit to:

*The Art Institute of Tennessee–Nashville
Housing Application
100 Centerview Drive Suite 250
Nashville, TN 37214*

A $125 refund is returned to the student at the end of a one year lease period. In some cases where damages are assessed and/or a lease is broken a student is no longer entitled to a restoration deposit.

3. Work with your financial planner.
4. Sign your financial plan.
5. We will send you a letter with your housing assignment approximately two weeks before the start of classes. It will include a list of items to bring and a schedule for housing orientation.

Please note: If you have not signed your financial plan by move in, you must do so in order to receive your keys. Your deposit will hold your space. However, be reminded that cancellations within 15 days of move in will forfeit your $250. The Art Institute of Tennessee–Nashville recommends that you get all your paperwork done in advance to alleviate stress.

6. Read and sign Housing Contract.
7. Move in on the day before orientation.
8. Attend orientation on the appropriate day.

Please complete the following information and submit with a $250 rent and restoration deposit (make checks payable to The Art Institute of Tennessee – Nashville) if you are interested in living in a college-sponsored housing. This deposit is to secure the payment of the faithful performance of all your other obligations under the Housing License Agreement. If you cancel this housing application less than (15) days prior to the indicated quarter start, The Art Institute of Tennessee – Nashville will be entitled to retain the entire rent and restoration deposit

The cost for housing depends on your choice. The cost for Avalon is $2220 per quarter – and you must have transportation to and from the college. The cost for Creekstone is $2030 per quarter and you may walk or drive to and from the college. After submission of this application you will be asked to sign a Housing License Agreement when you come for housing orientation. Students may not apply for housing until they have signed their Student Financial Plan.

LIVING LEARNING COMMUNITIES

Learning doesn't just take place in the classroom, and because of that, the Art Institute of Tennessee–Nashville is now offering Living Learning Communities to incoming residents. Living Learning Communities are small groups of students who share common academic goals or interests. Students in these communities work together along with faculty and staff to create a unique experience that will stay with them long past their college years.

Why be a part of LLCs? Studies show that students who participate in Living Learning Communities have an easier transition and maintain a higher GPA. Not only do students develop or improve their leadership skills but they also have increased interaction with faculty and staff outside of the classroom. Being a part of Living Learning Communities develops a support network with other students, faculty, and staff.

After polling our students and discussing what would best benefit our residents, we have created five topics for incoming residents to choose from:

Writing and Literature

This community is intended to help improve students' writing skills and develop or indulge in the appreciation of the written word. Programs for this community includes resume writing workshops and book of the quarter reading series.

Healthy Living

This community creates an environment where residents can develop or enhance their personal well-being. Programs in this community include healthy cooking demonstration and yoga workshops.

Leadership and Service Learning

Gain a better connection to your community with this LLC and learn to develop and practice your leadership skills. Programs in this community include Another Day, Another Dollar—learning how to budget while living as a college student, and other events that connect students with the Nashville area.

Culture and Diversity

Learn about other cultures and appreciate the differences our world has to offer. Residents in this community gain a better understanding of international and intercultural affairs. Programs in this community include international film screenings and museum trips.

Performing Arts

Broaden your world of art with its live counterpart and take advantage of the Nashville scene of music, dance, and theater. Programs in this community include Shakespeare in the park and performances at TPAC (Tennessee Performing Arts Center).

New housing students are welcomed to join the Living Learning Communities.
