

Ai The Art Institute of Philadelphia[®] COLLEGE NEWS

an informational newsletter for students at The Art Institute of Philadelphia www.artinstitutes.edu/philadelphia/collegenews

Fifty at Fifty: Percent for Art Projects

The Art Institute of Philadelphia is proud to host Fifty at Fifty, an exhibition of student photography to mark the fiftieth anniversary of the Percent for Art programs that have resulted in the creation of works of public art throughout the city of Philadelphia.

Twelve photographs by six Photography students at The Art Institute of Philadelphia will be included in the exhibit alongside works by student photographers at The University of the Arts, Moore College of Art and Temple University Tyler School of Art.

Above: Eileen Veight's photograph of Gift of the Winds by Joseph C. Bailey

The Philadelphia Redevelopment Authority and the City of Philadelphia are sponsoring the exhibition, which will be on display from October 29, 2009 through January 8, 2010 in the 1622 Chestnut Street Gallery.

There will be an opening reception at The Art Institute of Philadelphia Gallery on October 29 at 5pm, followed by a panel discussion at the University of the Arts at 7pm in the Hunt Room in Hamilton Hall at Broad and Pine Streets.

Faculty Exhibits at Local Galleries

Professor Howard Brunner and faculty member Fred Danziger have exhibitions of their work in Philadelphia galleries.

Above: Kristen by Fred Danziger

With City Skin: 1988 – 2002 at Heavy-bubble, located at 1622 South Street, Howard Brunner shows his fascination with the intimate textures, graphic patterns and painterly images which can be found in the city's surfaces which surround us every day. An artist's reception will be held at the gallery on Friday November 20th from 5 - 7:30 pm.

In his first Philadelphia gallery show in ten years, Fred Danziger is displaying twenty of his paintings through December 31 at the Rodger LaPelle Gallery, 122 N. 3rd Street. The opening reception is part of First Friday in November, Nov. 6th from 5 - 9 pm.

Right: City Skin by Howard Brunner

Above: Associate Professor Kreg Jones designed an electric car

"My GM" Designs On Display

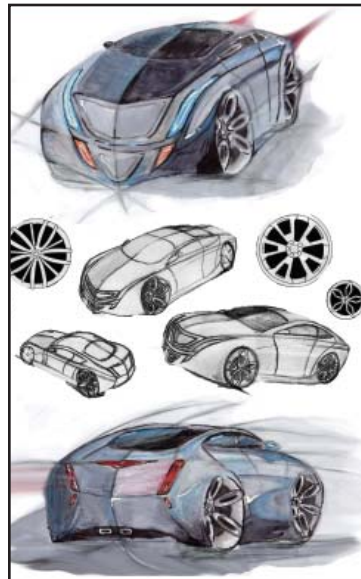

Inspired by the fact that the U.S. government is now a majority shareholder in General Motors, Industrial Design Technology students in Associate Professor Kreg Jones' Transportation Design (IT20831) class collaborated with Media Arts & Animation students in Assistant Professor Brian Yetzer's Hard Surface & Organic Modeling (AD20641) and Principles of 3-D Animation (AD20521) classes to create designs for smaller, lighter and greener transportation vehicles.

"As shareholders of this classic American corporation, we're introducing our proposal for an exciting new line for My GM," say the students in their artistic statement.

The resulting design boards and animations are now on view in The Art Institute of Philadelphia's large display window at 1610 Chestnut Street.

For the project, the Industrial Design Technology students developed plans for vehicles with fully electric operation, fuel cells, cylinder deactivation, hydraulic hybrid drive and bio-diesel technology.

Above: Designed by Avi Ashurov, this is "not your grandfather's sedan"

These design drawings were then transformed into realistic 3-D models and placed into a realistic environment by the Media Arts & Animation students.

Study Abroad 2010 Info Sessions

Information sessions on how to participate in the 2010 Study Abroad program in London, England will be held on Wednesday, October 28 and Monday, November 9 at 4:30 pm in Room 206 of the Annex Building, 1610 Chestnut Street.

The 2010 Study Abroad program will take place from June 18 – July 8, 2010, between the Spring and Summer quarters.

Back Row L to R: Academic Director Crystal Shamblee, Mah-Jing Wong, Mercedes Cook, Rashad Lane, Christina Sulpizio

Seated L to R: Katelyn Crowley, Lina Eriksson, Anita Lantz, Gabrielle Riccio, Amanda Baro, Britney Wiser, faculty member Emil DeJohn

Photo: Chelsea Wertz

Philadelphia Fashion Week Show

As the last night of Philadelphia Fashion Week got underway on Saturday, October 10, all eyes were focused on the designs of seven current and recently graduated Fashion Design students from The Art Institute of Philadelphia.

Fashion Design students Rashad Lane and Mercedes Cook and Fashion Marketing student Christina Sulpizio produced the fashion show under the direction of Academic Director Crystal Shamblee and Assistant Academic Director Patrick Carrow.

Above: Fashion Designs by (L-R) Anita Lantz, Katelyn Crowley, Gabrielle Riccio and Mah-Jing Wong

Models supplied by Wilhelmina of PA Photos: Chelsea Wertz

Above L-R: Rashad Lane, Mercedes Cook, Mah-Jing Wong and Christina Sulpizio

Photo: Chasitie Bradford

At left: Fashion Designs by (L-R) Amanda Baro, Lina Eriksson and Britney Wiser

Models supplied by Wilhelmina of PA

Photos: Chelsea Wertz